

MEN DRIVE INTO TRAP AT MAYS

Sam and John Royse and Allen Harris, All of Carthage, Arrested For Serious Offenses

EVIDENCE OF STEALING

Portion of Still Found and Barrel of Moonshine Mash Concealed in Thicket Located.

Three Carthage men are in jail here, following their arrest early Sunday morning at Mays, and each of them will face various charges of a serious nature, including possession of a still, larceny, and carrying weapons.

The men held are Sam Royse and his brother, John Royse, and Allen Harris. Their arrest was first made as suspects of stealing gasoline from Jesse Wilson at Mays, and when a search warrant was obtained and a residence searched in Carthage, a portion of a still was discovered, with a continued search Sunday in a thicket south of Carthage, which revealed a barrel of moonshine mash.

Jesse Wilson of Mays, who has charge of the county road trucks for the north end of the county, has been missing gasoline on numerous occasions. When a neighbor discovered a machine parked near his barn Saturday night about eleven o'clock, he awakened Mr. Wilson, and the men in the barn yard ran away, leaving their Ford.

Sheriff Hunt was notified and he and Patrolman Havens of this city went to Mays. In the meantime a delegation of the Horse Thief Detective association of that community had assembled. A search of the vicinity did not reveal the men, and a call for bloodhounds was made to Shelbyville.

The machines that had gathered along the roadside turned out their lights, and the women were waiting for the arrival of the dogs, when about three o'clock Sunday morning a machine came down the road from Carthage at a fast rate.

The driver failed to see the machines parked until he had driven into the midst of them and the car was stopped. The men were questioned, and gave their names, stating that they were going to visit an uncle in that vicinity.

Sheriff Hunt noticed the trousers of the men as being wet up to their knees, as it had been raining, and they could not give a good account of themselves. He placed them under arrest, and Patrolman Havens took charge of John Royse, according to the officers, and he had a .38 calibre revolver in his hand. The weapon was taken from him, and Allen Harris had a .32 calibre revolver in his pocket.

The trio was brought to jail here, and a search warrant for the home of Sam Royse was obtained at Carthage. Sheriff Hunt returned to Carthage in time to assist in the search. Mrs. Royse stated that the men operated a still, and a portion of the outfit was found in the house. She said that the mash was brewed on the Newby farm, just south of Carthage.

Officers could not locate it early Sunday morning because of the

PLANT TO BE REBUILT RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE

Debris Being Cleared Off Dill Foundry Site Preparatory to Replacing Building

NEW ONE TO BE FIRE PROOF

Work of clearing off the debris on the Dill Foundry company's site, following the disastrous fire two weeks ago, is well under way, and the place will soon be cleaned, ready for the rebuilding of a modern factory.

No definite plans have been made for the erection of the new building, according to William Dill, general manager of the plant, but he has stated that it will be built as rapidly as possible this summer, so that work can be resumed.

The plant to be built will consist of a modern fire proof building, steel and concrete construction, and it will occupy more ground space than before the fire. All new equipment will be installed, including the building of a new cupola, and the estimate of the new project is placed roughly at $50,000. As soon as the ground has been cleared, plans and specifications for the new building will be drafted and more definite announcement made concerning the plant within a few days.

HEAVY RAIN WELCOMED THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Downpour Accompanied by Severe Electrical Display, But No Damage is Reported

LITTLE RELIEF FROM HEAT

Cooler weather is promised for Tuesday, according to the weather bureau this afternoon, in predicting thunderstorms this afternoon and tonight, followed by cooler weather and generally fair on Tuesday.

The mercury at noon today had climbed to 88 degrees, and was no doubt preparing to go higher when the skies became overcast, and a thunderstorm passed over the county shortly after one o'clock.

In almost every section of the county a good rain was welcomed this afternoon, and although the lightning was severe, there was no damage reported early this afternoon. The heavy downpour in Rushville lasted for almost a half hour, but the rain failed to bring much relief from the high temperature, which probably indicates that another storm is on the way later today.

The heat wave of last week, in which the mercury had gone to 98 on Friday, was temporarily broken Saturday afternoon when a storm passed over southern Rush county and to the west of the county. Saturday noon the temperature went up to 97 degrees, according to Elwood Kirkwood at Maunzy, and it was brought down to 80 by night time.

The storm Saturday in Rush county was not severe, with no crop or property damage reported. The loss of one life south of Milroy was reported, when Grover Shocks was struck by lightning. The rainfall did not reach as far as Rushville until late Saturday night, when only a small amount of rainfall was reported. Hail west of Rushville in the vicinity of Morristown and Julietta, is believed to have reduced the temperature here late Saturday

GROVER SHOCKE IS KILLED BY A BOLT

Anderson Township Man, Tenant on Harlan Overlease Farm, Struck by Lightning

ACROSS ROAD FROM HOME

Bolt Hit Tree Near Him and Death is Instantaneous—Funeral Held This Afternoon

Grover Shocks, age 37, a tenant on the Harlan Overlease farm, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Milroy, was killed instantly Saturday afternoon, when a bolt of lightning struck a tree near which he was standing, and bounded over and struck him.

The accident happened about 12:30 Saturday afternoon when a thunderstorm passed over the southern part of Rush county. Funeral services for the victim were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church in Milroy, with the Rev. Mr. Scull and the Rev. R. R. Cross, officiating. Burial was made in the Milroy cemetery.

Mr. Shocks is survived by his parents who live near Laurel, his wife, and three children, who are Dorothy, Robert and Riley.

The accident happened in the yard at the home of John Brooks, which is across the road from where Mr. Shocks lived. He had been at the Brooks home starting an engine in the basement, and left as the storm was beginning.

He had gone only a short distance from the house, when the lightning struck a tree, with the bolt glancing off from the tree, and striking him. He was only a short distance from the rear of the Brooks home, and members of that family saw him fall as the lightning flashed.

Death was instantaneous, according to Dr. J. M. Lee, county coroner, who was called Saturday afternoon, and investigated.

Mr. Shocks was well known in this community, and is related extensively throughout the county, having several brothers living here. His death proved to be a severe shock to his family, and friends.

THREE PERSONS HURT IN HEADON AUTO COLLISION

Loren Winkler, Driver of One Car, and Barton Cartmel, Both of This City, Injured.

NO LIGHTS ON OTHER CAR

Three persons were injured and two machines practically demolished in a collision of the machines Sunday night on the road 4 miles north of Greensburg, and near Sandusky.

Both machines were Ford touring cars, with one being driven north by Loren Winkler of this city, and occupied by Barton Cartmel, also of this city. The other car was going south and was driven by Edward Ray, a farmer of near Greensburg.

Ray is said to have been driving without lights, and as the machines met on a hill, they came together headon.

The local boys were badly cut and bruised, and Mr. Ray was also injured and cut, it being necessary to take him to the hospital in Greensburg. He was reported today to be improving rapidly.

The local boys were brought to the Dr. Green hospital here, where their injuries were dressed. Both cars were practically demolished in the accident.

R. E. MANSFIELD BETTER

The condition of Robert E. Mansfield, who suffered a heart attack last Tuesday at his home in North Perkins street, is reported to be improved and out of danger, it is thought, although his condition in the last few days has been critical. Mr. Mansfield is suffering with pleurisy, according to doctors attending him, and this, they say, is affecting his heart.

VACATION SCHOOLS OPEN IN 3 CHURCHES

Bible Training For Boys and Girls Begins This Morning with Good Enrollments

WEATHER CUTS ATTENDANCE

Heat Tends to Decrease Size of Sunday's Congregations—Children's Day Observed

Daily Vacation Bible schools opened in three churches this morning—the First Presbyterian, the First Baptist and the First United Presbyterian, to continue for the next few weeks. Although the weather was warm, a good enrollment was anticipated at each of the schools.

The first hot Sunday of the season yesterday cut in on the church attendance slightly, but the decrease was not of very great proportions.

The customary services were held in all Rushville churches, with the exception of the Main Street Christian, which observed Children's Day in the evening with a program by the Sunday school. The church was filled for the entertainment and the Children's Day offering, which goes to missions, was more than $600.

The Rev. B. F. Cato spoke in the morning on "Christian Heart Enlargement." A Ladies quartet composed of Mrs. B. D. Farthing, Miss Mildred Norris, Mrs. Joe Clark and Mrs. Charles Offutt sang at the morning service.

The morning theme of the Rev. Gibson church was "Jesus, the Stone of Stumbling," and his text was "And they were offended in Him," from Matthew 13:57.

"The words of our text," said Mr. Wilson, "express the attitude of the world today."

Many are offended because of his wisdom and because they knew the members of his family.

"This is the stone of stumbling to which Isaiah referred: 'Behold I lay in Zion a stumbling stone, a rock of offense.' They stumble because they are not willing to believe. Because of their being offended they reject and crucify Him."

"Many are offended because they are asked to accept His reality before they know Him. He can not be fully known until he has been permitted to enter one's life."

"They are offended because they are asked to follow one of such humiliating death."

Walter E. Smith Plaintiff in Case Tried Before Special Judge Craig Today

TAYLOR DENIED NEW TRIAL

The case of Walter E. Smith against George F. Billings and others, a suit on notes and involving the foreclosure of a huge mortgage, was being heard today in the circuit court by Judge John W. Craig of Greensburg, special judge appointed to try the cause.

The case involves the affairs of Mr. Billings, former Union township farmer, who disappeared more than a year ago. Included in the action being heard are several cross complaints and counter actions filed by other persons who allege that they hold notes.

Judge Fremont Miller of Franklin, special judge in the trial last week against Chester Taylor who was convicted of violating a section of the liquor laws, was here Saturday afternoon. He refused a new trial, and granted the defendant an appeal to the supreme court, giving him 60 days to file the papers. The defendant was released on bail of $2,500 during the appeal.

Judge Sparks heard the evidence Saturday on the matter of allowance in the divorce suit pending of Clara B. Sweet against Owen Sweet, with the issue being taken under advisement. The court also has under advisement the issue pertaining to allowance and custody of a child, involved in the divorce suit pending of Duward Gilson against Edna Gilson.

SENATOR WATSON SPENDS TWO DAYS IN THE CITY

Remains Over Today to Visit With Old Friends—Will be in the State 35 Days

SPEAKS ALMOST EVERY DAY

Senator James E. Watson, who came to Rushville Sunday to address a meeting at Memorial park coliseum sponsored by Rush post of the American Legion, remained over today visiting with old friends and will leave this evening. He was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Riggs over night. He has more than two score of speaking engagements which will keep him in Indiana for the next thirty-five days.

He will address the annual Indiana encampment of the Indiana G. A. R. in Princeton Wednesday and will make a Flag Day address at Goshen next Sunday. The Indiana senator is also scheduled to make a number of luncheon club addresses throughout the state during the next month. He spoke to the Richmond Rotary club last Tuesday, when seventy-six veterans of the civil war were present as guests.

Senator Watson will attend a political meeting at Fort Wayne June 24, which will be in the nature of a political powwow for republicans of northern Indiana. He will speak at a Fourth of July celebration at Alexandria. Most of his addresses will be non-political.

SHOWS AMERICA TO BE WELL SITUATED

Senator James E. Watson Speaks at Last of Legion Meetings at Park Sunday Afternoon

TRIBUTE TO T. R. MARSHALL

Senator Tells Legionnaires Organization Will Not be as Easy as it Was For G. A. R.

"How beautiful is the situation of America," said Senator James E. Watson, paraphrasing the Psalmist, in addressing a meeting at Memorial park coliseum, sponsored by the American Legion, Sunday afternoon and he recounted some of the glories of America, stressing her war history, and pointed out what lay before the American Legion in protecting the principles for which American soldiers fought in the World War.

Senator Watson was introduced by Samuel L. Trabue, and following his address three American Legion officers who were here for the district meeting held at the Legion club rooms earlier in the afternoon, were introduced and spoke a few words. The New Salem band gave a concert before the address.

"The American Legion is endeavoring to perpetuate so far as it is able, the principles of Americanism for which the boys fought," said Mr. Trabue, in explaining that this was the last of a series of meetings held under the Legion's auspices. He alluded to the fact that the late Thomas R. Marshall had consented to speak at one of the series, but could not come at the time designated, and had intended to speak here later.

Senator Watson promptly took off his coat when he arose to speak with the comment that "you can take off anything you want to." He expressed sorrow that Mr. Marshall could not be here.

"He was a genuine American," Senator Watson said of Mr. Marshall, "a splendid patriot, a fine scholar and a noble citizen. The speech he made upon leaving the vice-president's chair was a classic and I wish that every American girl and boy might read it for instruction in patriotism."

In developing the theme, "How beautiful is the situation of America," Senator Watson alluded to her untold resources that are yet untouched and her ideal location geographically.

America is fortunate in her situation as to mortality, the senator pointed out, with 365,000 churches collecting and distributing last year $80 million dollars.

She is fortunately situated as to intellectual culture, he said, with 384 colleges and universities for men, 284 for women, 262 for both men and women and 375 professional schools, with 265,000 students and valued at more than two billion dollars.

America is also fortunately situated as to leadership, he continued, because America is conspicuous for her leadership and is so recognized around the world.

"When stirred to the depths," Senator Watson said, "America is the most idealistic nation in the world."

J. H. KIPLINGER'S GUESTS

A district meeting of the American Legion, attended by representative of several counties in the sixth district, was held at the Legion club rooms in the court house Sunday afternoon previous to the public meeting at Memorial park.

Constitution and Booze

Arthur Brisbane defines a good American as one, regardless of his religion or lack of religion, who
"works for a living, respects the constitution, obeys the laws, recognizes the government of the United States as the supreme power under
heaven, and refrains from interfering with the rights of other Americans as set forth in the constitution,
free speech, free thought, free
newspapers, free religion and complete separation of church and state."

All Americans will accept the definition as a true one, but the rub comes in applying it.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, probably would agree with this view, yet he is bitterly opposed to the "eighteenth amendment, which was added to the constitution in the regular way the constitution provides. And he doubtless thinks he "respects the constitution," though he attacks it in public address whenever the occasion
presents itself.

Dr. W. P. Dearing, president of
the Indiana State Teachers' Association, also would approve this definition, but he is diametrically opposed to Dr. Butler's stand regarding the eighteenth amendment.

He addressed an open letter to Dr. Butler, concluding with this paragraph, "In the name of American liberty, which accepts personal limitations for the sake of the public good, Indiana sends its protest to foreign New York with its European personal liberty which says, 'the public and the American constitution be damned — I want my booze.'"

Thus, what constitutes personal liberty will always be in dispute.
One school of thinkers believes the constitution has no limitations where their personal liberties are concerned, but would apply the screws unmercifully on the personal liberties of those who disagree.

The modern construction placed upon "personal liberty" is that an individual may go as far as he likes
if what he does is not detrimental

A TALK WITH A

terest to Rushville Folks

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Offutt of 321
W. Fourth street, should be mighty helpful here in Rushville.

S. G. Offutt, retired blacksmith, 321 W. Fourth St., Rushville says:
"Knife-like stabs of pain made stooping work impossible. I couldn't get rid of the stiffness across my kidneys and my kidneys didn't act often enough. The secretions were scanty. Doan's Pills, however, from Pitman & Wilson's Drug store, regulated my kidneys and my back ached no longer. I still use Doan's occasionally to keep my kidneys well."

dividuals.

Intoxicating liquor was outlawed
with the passage of the eighteenth
amendment because it is recognized
as harmful and as having an evil
influence on society. If all the men and women who want liquor licensed
again, could drink it without interfering with the "personal liberty"
of others, there would be no objection, but they can't. And for that reason booze will continue to remain an outlaw.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The presidential job often is referred to as a mankiller. The vice presidency generally is considered
something of a sinecure.

It seems to have occurred to
nobody that, with Thomas R.
Marshall's death, the country has
as many living ex-presidents left
as ex-vice presidents—that is to say, one of each, respectively Chief Justice Taft and President Coolidge.

This gives rise to the guess,
either that the vice presidency
must be more wearing than was popularly supposed, or that some
deadly quality other than the work
involved lurks in both the chief
magistracy and its understudy's
post.

The fact is, though we have had
what we called young presidents
and vice presidents, they were
young only for the high offices
they held. After a term or two,
most of them were pretty well on
in this life and not far from the getting off place into the next.

EX-VICE PRESIDENT MAR-SHALL was one of the most popular statesmen Washington ever has known. He never took himself too seriously. Affable and easy of approach, his circle of friends was enormous.

His humor—antiseptic but healing—was delightful. His oft-quoted remark during the postwar reconstruction period, with
everybody telling what the country needed, "It needs a good 5-cent
cigar," was typical of him.

Frivolous, as it fell on the ear,
it was packed with meaning on
analysis, a meaning the man in the street could understand.

Marshall wasn't the type of politician to wait until he knew "how the wind blew" before making up his mind. He made it up in advance and regardless of the wind,
and revealed it with a frankness
which horrified his party's more cautiously inclined.

He never broke himself of this habit. He never tried.

The Hodge-Podge
By a Paragapher with a Soul

We are told 92 per cent of the accidents could be avoided. The other eight per cent, then, are not accidents.

Professing to believe one thing and doing the opposite is another standard the world frowns on.

No one has ever found a definition for liberty or license that will please all the people all the time.

MEN DRIVE INTO A TRAP AT MAYS

thicket, but Sunday afternoon Jap Parrish, marshal at Carthage, conducted a farther search and found a 50 or 60 gallon barrel of mash. It was well concealed, in a dense thicket, the officers said.

Mrs. Royse stated that the other two men lived at her home in Carthage. The machine which was left at the barn during the gasoline theft, belonged to Sam Royse, according to the officers. They are of the opinion that when they were frightened away they walked back to Carthage and got the machine owned by John Royse. The car that was abandoned contained a five gallon can of gasoline as evidence that they were stealing the gasoline from the county.

Several farmers in that vicinity have reported thefts recently, according to Sheriff Hunt.

When the trio drove into the crowd of officers, they had not been there only five minutes until the blood-hounds arrived from Shelbyville, but the services of the dogs were not needed. The men will be detained in jail until charges can be preferred against them.

Mary Pickford at Princess

After fourteen weeks of continuous work, Mary Pickford completed her new version of "Tess of the Storm Country," the famous Grace
Miller White story which established this little star's perennial fame
eight years ago, when she made her first feature picture. This new "Tess of the Storm Country," is coming to the Princess Theatre
Monday and Tuesday under a United Artists release.

The last scene was made on location near Los Angeles and showed a dog capturing the villain just as he was about to grasp the fleeing Tess, that belligerent hoyden of the squatter's village so convincingly portrayed by the lovely Mary.

Owing to the popularity of "Tess of the Storm Country," every precaution to make it superior to any thing Miss Pickford has ever done.
Direction was under the guidance of John S. Robertson, especially loaned by Jess Lasky for this feature. Charles Rosher, who has handled the camera for practically all of Miss Pickford's most famous starring vehicles, presided over the photography on this production. In the cast are such celluloid notables as Lloyd Hughes, Gloria Hope, Forrest
Robinson, Danny Hoy and Mmie. de Bodamere.

WHY SKINNY
FOLKS TAKE
COD LIVER OIL

Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Get
Your Money Back

Because it is richer in vitamins
than any other food in the world.
Doctors prescribe it for rickets and anaemia in children and for tuberculosis, malnutrition and convalescence in grown up people.
As a producer of weight—good healthy flesh—there is nothing in the world so good.
But it's nasty tasting, horrible smelling stuff that often upsets the stomach so doctors now are ordering cod liver oil in tablet form.
You've got to take on weight when McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound
Tablets are taken regularly—you simply can't help it.
It's so good that if it doesn't put on five pounds of good healthy flesh on any skinny man or woman in thirty days the McCoy Laboratories of New York authorize Pitman and Wilson and all druggists to return
the price you paid for it.
Be sure to ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sixty tablets—60 cents. One woman put on fifteen pounds in five weeks, and they are especially valuable to weak thin children.

world and when passive, the most realistic nation in the world, because we give attention to the things that pertain to the material side of citizenship.

"History teaches us that there are greater calamities than war. If evil fastens itself on the body politic, only war will loosen it. There is no remission of sins without the shedding of blood."

"Who shall say that the world has not been improved by the conflicts in which we have engaged," declared the senator. "Any war was justified to give this nation independence, to give this nation freedom from slavery to remove the clutches of Spain from small nations and to prevent an autocrat from dominating the world."

Senator Watson disputed the statement of Gladstone that the United States constitution was the greatest document ever conceived at a given time by the mind of man. He declared that the constitution was the consummation of 1700 years of striving for the realization of an ideal—the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

"The constitution says that all men were created equal," he continued. "What does that mean? Equality of opportunity and equality before the law; not to be hampered by law or government. The fundamental thing in our constitution is recognition of the right of every man to work as he pleases and the right to enjoy the fruits of that labor."

"What is the Russian idea?" You say why should he discuss such a thing, but do you know that more 'red' literature went through the postoffice during the last six months than in any similar period in history. They are seeking to tear down what we have built up.

"Who's to stand up against these young patriots who went to the blood-soaked fields of France to fight for the principle for which America stands. The patriotic spirit they embody is the patriotic spirit that will save America."

Senator Watson said that many people were complaining about this, that and the other thing, but that most of the fancied troubles will pass.

"The only thing that really disturbs me," he added, "is the indifference of the American people to the underworld."

The senator declared that the Legion needed more systematic organization because the matter of organization will be more difficult than it was for the civil war veterans, since the World War was not fought at home, as the Civil War was, and people did not actually see the privations and bloodshed suffered by the soldiers.

"I am glad always to come back to Rushville and see the people of Rush county and preach the gospel of Americanism," he said.

"We have our ups and downs as other nations," he added. "We are going to respect the rights of other nations and compel other nations to respect our rights."

Senator Watson took issue with the pacifists, declaring the nation should be prepared, but added that "We are not going to wage a war of aggression and do not intend that other nations shall wage a war of aggression against us."

He advocated military training for the best interests of the nation from a physical standpoint and commented briefly upon the stand of the government regarding the payment of war debts, which drew applause.

"Our young men went over there to fight for a principle," he stated,

"They are offended because he says they are not worthy of him unless they love him more than their father and mother. Those who love him most love their parents more."

"Some are offended because he wants them to walk in the way that is called straight while they prefer to walk a crooked way of life. They would say he takes away their personal liberty. They are not willing to confess him before men."

At the Main Street Christian church the pastor took the Golden Text of the Bible for his text, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." He showed that while "God so loved the world," man has loved only certain spots and portions of the world such as his native village, city, or country, but that since the Christian religion is a universal religion according to the great commission as given by Jesus, it becomes necessary for man to broaden his vision and his sympathies to be in harmony with the world idea of the Master.

The speaker emphasized and illustrated just how provincial mankind is and it is perfectly natural that some of this narrowness should have crept into the church and still abides there. Mr. Cato said that in cultivating a farm a man's ideas

New York, June 8—Playing managers in the major leagues came back in style several years ago when it was shown in the case of Tris Speaker that the burden of management was not too much of a load for a good player. Since then bench managers have found a poor market because it is better business for a club owner to have a manager who because it is better business for a player and thereby reduce the payroll.

As the custom of getting a playing manager is a practical idea from the business point of view, so is it practical to have a thorough baseball man at the head of a club and former managers in the future may be as much in demand as smart players are now sought for places as managers.

Three of the best business investments in the National League are now practically in the hands of experienced former players and managers and a fourth club is being rebuilt under the direction of a former player.

John McGraw, when the New York Giants were sold several years ago, was permitted to buy a large block of stock and he was elected

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A Hudson touring car belonging to Frank Priest of this city was missing for two and a half hours in Cincinnati Saturday night, but the police of that city recovered it, and no damage resulted. His car was parked at Coney Island, and when he went to get it, the machine had disappeared. He reported the theft to the police station and it was reported found at Walnut Hills. He had forgotten to remove the key after locking it, and "joyriders" are believed to have taken it for a spin.

You Should Select a Refrigerator with Care

The health of your family depends to a large degree on having a clean, sanitary, cold storage place for foods. When you select a refrigerator investigate the following three points.

1. INSULATION. The insulation is to keep heat from entering the refrigerator and cold from passing out.
2. CLEANLINESS. Any place in which foods are stored should be kept spotlessly clean.
3. CONVENIENCE. Not only convenience of storage but also convenience of cleaning.

Point One—The White Frost Refrigerator is doubly insulated. It consists of two steel jackets with an air space between, permanently and perfectly sealed. This dead air space in itself makes almost complete insulation. But in addition the White Frost is doubly insulated with ground cork, the best material known to refrigerator engineers for insulating purposes.

Point Two—The White Frost Refrigerator is the only one in the world that is built in this convenient round form. The interior is enameled and you will note that there are no crevices or corners in which impurities or dirt can lodge.

Point Three—The circular shelves that you see in the picture revolve. Thus, if you want an article that is in the back of the refrigerator you do not have to remove articles in the front or run the risk of upsetting them — you merely rotate the shelf until the article you want is in front.

This wonderful convenience, found in no other refrigerator, makes available every inch of room. In the old-fashioned square refrigerator much of the space was not used because it was so difficult to reach.

The White Frost is Built for Service

Solidly constructed of enameled metal the White Frost will last for years. It cannot warp, it cannot rust, it cannot fail in any way.

When you select a White Frost Refrigerator you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have chosen the best the market offers and you will be pleasantly surprised to find that the White Frost costs less than old insulated old style refrigerators of equal capacity.

The White Frost is made in two sizes—the Bungalow for smaller families and apartments, and the Household for larger homes.

MEN DRIVE INTO TRAP AT MAYS

Sam and John Royse and Allen Harris, All of Carthage, Arrested For Serious Offenses

EVIDENCE OF STEALING

Portion of Still Found and Barrel of Moonshine Mash Concealed in Thicket Located.

Three Carthage men are in jail here, following their arrest early Sunday morning at Mays, and each of them will face various charges of a serious nature, including possession of a still, larceny, and carrying weapons.

The men held are Sam Royse and his brother, John Royse, and Allen Harris. Their arrest was first made as suspects of stealing gasoline from Jesse Wilson at Mays, and when a search warrant was obtained and a residence searched in Carthage, a portion of a still was discovered, with a continued search Sunday in a thicket south of Carthage, which revealed a barrel of moonshine mash.

Jesse Wilson of Mays, who has charge of the county road trucks for the north end of the county, has been missing gasoline on numerous occasions. When a neighbor discovered a machine parked near his barn Saturday night about eleven o'clock, he awakened Mr. Wilson, and the men in the barn yard ran away, leaving their Ford.

Sheriff Hunt was notified and he and Patrolman Havens of this city went to Mays. In the meantime a delegation of the Horse Thief Detective association of that community had assembled. A search of the vicinity did not reveal the men, and a call for bloodhounds was made to Shelbyville.

The machines that had gathered along the roadside turned out their lights, and the women were waiting for the arrival of the dogs, when about three o'clock Sunday morning a machine came down the road from Carthage at a fast rate.

The driver failed to see the machines parked until he had driven into the midst of them and the car was stopped. The men were questioned, and gave their names, stating that they were going to visit an uncle in that vicinity.

Sheriff Hunt noticed the trousers of the men as being wet up to their knees, as it had been raining, and they could not give a good account of themselves. He placed them under arrest, and Patrolman Havens took charge of John Royse, according to the officers, and he had a .38 calibre revolver in his hand. The weapon was taken from him, and Allen Harris had a .32 calibre revolver in his pocket.

The trio was brought to jail here, and a search warrant for the home of Sam Royse was obtained at Carthage. Sheriff Hunt returned to Carthage in time to assist in the search. Mrs. Royse stated that the men operated a still, and a portion of the outfit was found in the house. She said that the mash was brewed on the Newby farm, just south of Carthage.

Officers could not locate it early Sunday morning because of the

PLANT TO BE REBUILT

RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE

Debris Being Cleared Off Dill Foundry Site Preparatory to Replacing Building

NEW ONE TO BE FIRE PROOF

Work of clearing off the debris on the Dill Foundry company's site, following the disastrous fire two weeks ago, is well under way, and the place will soon be cleaned, ready for the rebuilding of a modern factory.

No definite plans have been made for the erection of the new building, according to William Dill, general manager of the plant, but he has stated that it will be built as rapidly as possible this summer, so that work can be resumed.

The plant to be built will consist of a modern fire proof building, steel and concrete construction, and it will occupy more ground space than before the fire. All new equipment will be installed, including the building of a new boiler, and the estimate of the new project is placed roughly at $50,000. As soon as the ground has been cleared, plans and specifications for the new building will be drafted and more definite announcement made concerning the plant within a few days.

HEAVY RAIN WELCOMED

THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Downpour Accompanied by Severe Electrical Display, But No Damage is Reported

LITTLE RELIEF FROM HEAT

Cooler weather is promised for Tuesday, according to the weather bureau this afternoon, in predicting thunderstorms this afternoon and tonight, followed by cooler weather and generally fair on Tuesday.

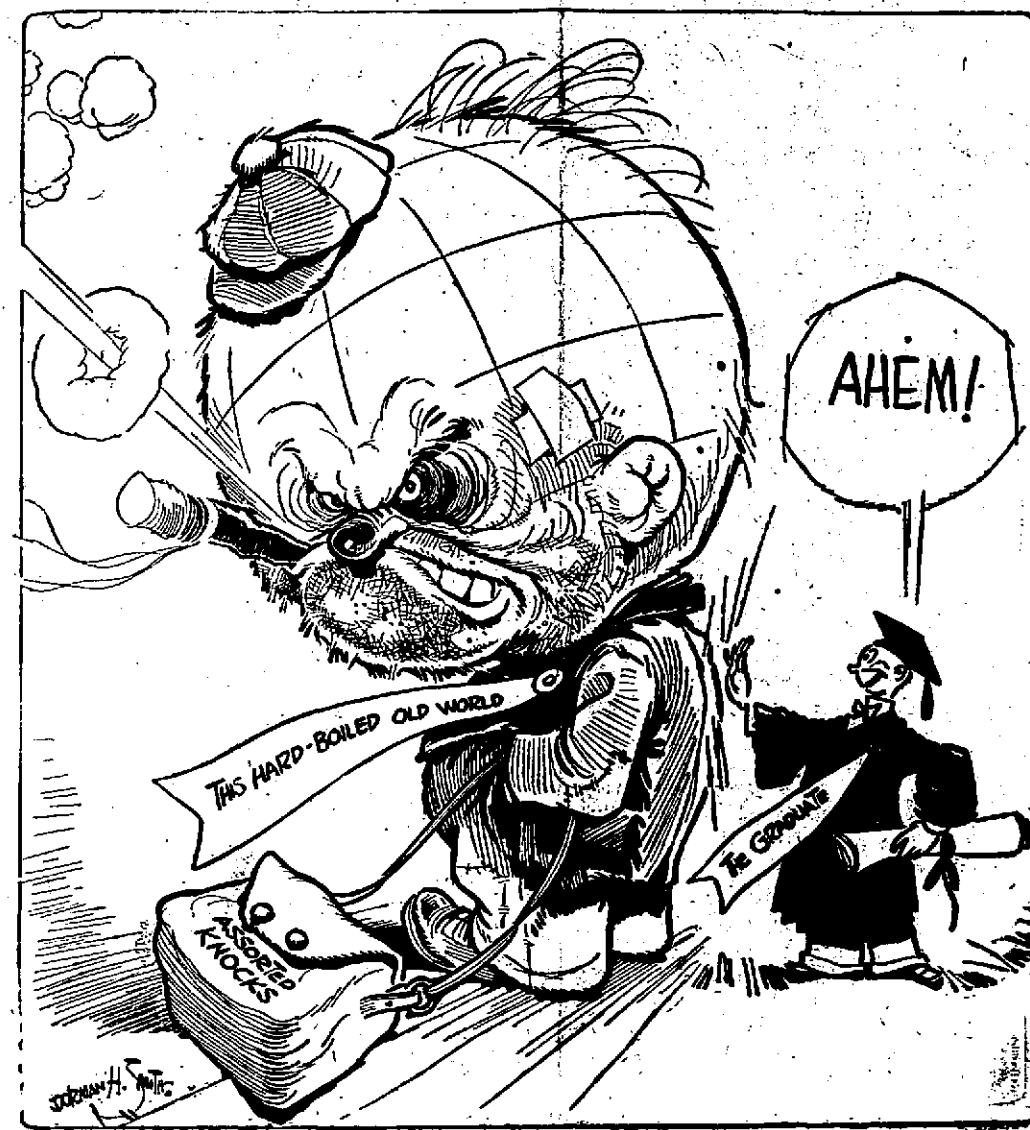

The mercury at noon today had climbed to 88 degrees, and was no doubt preparing to go higher when the skies became overcast, and a thunderstorm passed over the county shortly after one o'clock.

In almost every section of the county a good rain was welcomed this afternoon, and although the lightning was severe, there was no damage reported early this afternoon. The heavy downpour in Rushville lasted for almost a half hour, but the rain failed to bring much relief from the high temperature, which probably indicates that another storm is on the way later today.

The heat wave of last week, in which the mercury had gone to 98 on Friday, was temporarily broken Saturday afternoon when a storm passed over southern Rush county and to the west of the county. Saturday noon the temperature went up to 97 degrees, according to Elwood Kirkwood at Maury, and it was brought down to 80 by night time.

The storm Saturday in Rush county was not severe, with no crop or property damage reported. The loss of one life south of Milroy was reported, when Grover Shockey was struck by lightning. The rainfall did not reach as far as Rushville until late Saturday night, when only a small amount of rain was reported. Mail west of Rushville in the vicinity of Morristown and Julietta, is believed to have reduced the temperature here late Saturday.

GROVER SHOCKE IS KILLED BY A BOLT

Anderson Township Man, Tenant on Harlan Overleese Farm, Struck by Lightning

ACROSS ROAD FROM HOME

Bolt Hit Tree Near Him and Death is Instantaneous—Funeral Held This Afternoon

Grover Shockey, age 37, a tenant on the Harlan Overleese farm, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Milroy, was killed instantly Saturday afternoon, when a bolt of lightning struck a tree near which he was standing, and bounded over and struck him.

The accident happened about 12:30 Saturday afternoon when a thunderstorm passed over the southern part of Rush county. Funeral services for the victim were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church in Milroy, with the Rev. Mr. Scull and the Rev. R. R. Cross, officiating. Burial was made in the Milroy cemetery.

Mr. Shockey is survived by his parents who live near Laurel, his wife, and three children, who are Dorothy, Robert and Riley.

The accident happened in the yard at the home of John Brooks, which is across the road from where Mr. Shockey lived. He had been at the Brooks home starting an engine in the basement, and left as the storm was beginning.

He had gone only a short distance from the house, when the lightning struck a tree, with the bolt glancing off from the tree, and striking him. He was only a short distance from the rear of the Brooks home, and members of that family saw him fall as the lightning flashed.

Death was instantaneous, according to Dr. J. M. Lee, county coroner, who was called Saturday afternoon, and investigated.

Mr. Shockey was well known in this community, and is related extensively throughout the county, having several brothers living here. His death proved to be a severe shock to his family, and friends.

Both machines were Ford touring cars, with one being driven north by Loren Winkler of this city, and occupied by Barton Cartmel, also of this city. The other car was going south and was driven by Edward Ray, a farmer of near Greensburg.

Ray is said to have been driving without lights, and as the machines met on a hill, they came together headon.

The local boys were badly cut and bruised, and Mr. Ray was also injured and cut, it being necessary to take him to the hospital in Greensburg. He was reported today to be improving rapidly.

The local boys were brought to the Dr. Green hospital here, where their injuries were dressed. Both cars were practically demolished in the accident.

R. E. MANSFIELD BETTER

The condition of Robert E. Mansfield, who suffered a heart attack last Tuesday at his home in North Perkins street, is reported to be improved and out of danger, it is thought, although his condition in the last few days has been critical. Mr. Mansfield is suffering with pleurisy, according to doctors attending him, and this, they say, is affecting his heart.

VACATION SCHOOLS OPEN IN 3 CHURCHES

Bible Training For Boys and Girls Begins This Morning with Good Enrollments

WEATHER CUTS ATTENDANCE

Heat Tends to Decrease Size of Sunday's Congregations—Children's Day Observed

Daily Vacation Bible schools opened in three churches this morning—the First Presbyterian, the First Baptist and the First United Presbyterian, to continue for the next few weeks. Although the weather was warm, a good enrollment was anticipated at each of the schools.

The first hot Sunday of the season yesterday cut in on the church attendance slightly, but the decrease was not of very great proportions.

The customary services were held in all Rushville churches, with the exception of the Main Street Christian, which observed Children's Day in the evening with a program by the Sunday school. The church was filled for the entertainment and the Children's Day offering, which goes to missions, was more than $600.

The Rev. B. F. Cato spoke in the morning on "Christian Heart Enlargement." A Ladies quartet composed of Mrs. B. D. Farthing, Miss Mildred Norris, Mrs. Joe Clark and Mrs. Charles Offutt sang at the morning service.

The morning theme of the Rev. Gibson Wilson at the First Presbyterian church was "Jesus, the Stone of Stumbling," and his text was "And they were offended in Him," from Matthew 13:57.

"The words of our text," said Mr. Wilson, "express the attitude of the world today."

Many are offended because of his wisdom and because they knew the members of his family.

"This is the stone of stumbling to which Isaiah referred: 'Behold I lay in Zion a stumbling stone, a rock of offense.' They stumble because they are not willing to believe. Because of their being offended they reject and crucify Him."

"Many are offended because they are asked to accept His reality before they know Him. He can not be fully known until he has been permitted to enter one's life."

"They are offended because they are asked to follow one of such humiliating death."

LOCAL TRUCK DRIVER IS FINED

Caught by Connersville Police Who Are Enforcing Motor Laws

Police officers are enforcing the motor vehicle law from all angles at Connersville, according to arrests that are made each day on various charges.

Neglect in shutting off his motor cost Dale Peters, a truck driver of this city, $33.95 as he was arrested on a charge of leaving his engine running while he stepped inside of a store. The minimum fine is $25 and costs for violation of this section of the ordinance.

A campaign on speeders has been bringing two or three persons into court daily for the past several weeks, and arrests also have been made on truck drivers who have not complied with the law concerning rear view mirrors.

SUIT ON BILLINGS NOTES AND MORTGAGE IS HEARD

Walter E. Smith Plaintiff in Case Tried Before Special Judge Craig Today

TAYLOR DENIED NEW TRIAL

The case of Walter E. Smith against George F. Billings and others, a suit on notes and involving the foreclosure of a huge mortgage, was being heard today in the circuit court by Judge John W. Craig of Greensburg, special judge appointed to try the cause.

The case involves the affairs of Mr. Billings, former Union township farmer, who disappeared more than a year ago. Included in the action being heard are several cross complaints and counter actions filed by other persons who allege that they hold notes.

Judge Fremont Miller of Franklin, special judge in the trial last week against Chester Taylor who was convicted of violating a section of the liquor laws, was here Saturday afternoon. He refused a new trial, and granted the defendant an appeal to the supreme court, giving him 60 days to file the papers. The defendant was released on bail of $2,500 during the appeal.

Judge Sparks heard the evidence Saturday on the matter of allowance in the divorce suit pending of Clara B. Sweet against Owen Sweet, with the issue being taken under advisement. The court also has under advisement the issue pertaining to allowance and custody of a child, involved in the divorce suit pending of Duward Gilson against Edna Gilson.

America is fortunate in her situation as to mortality, the senator pointed out, with 365,000 churches collecting and distributing last year 800 million dollars.

SENATOR WATSON SPENDS TWO DAYS IN THE CITY

Remains Over Today to Visit With Old Friends—Will be in the State 35 Days

SPEAKS ALMOST EVERY DAY

Senator James E. Watson, who came to Rushville Sunday to address a meeting at Memorial park coliseum sponsored by Rush post of the American Legion, remained over today visiting with old friends and will leave this evening. He was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Riggs over night. He has more than two score of speaking engagements which will keep him in Indiana for the next thirty-five days.

He will address the annual Indiana encampment of the Indiana G. A. R. in Princeton Wednesday and will make a Flag Day address at Goshen next Sunday. The Indiana Republican is also scheduled to make a number of luncheon club addresses throughout the state during the next month. He spoke to the Richmond Rotary club last Tuesday, when seventy-six veterans of the civil war were present as guests.

Senator Watson will attend a political meeting at Fort Wayne June 24, which will be in the nature of a political powwow for republicans of northern Indiana. He will speak at a Fourth of July celebration at Alexandria. Most of his addresses will be non-political.

SHOWS AMERICA TO BE WELL SITUATED

Senator James E. Watson Speaks at Last of Legion Meetings at Park Sunday Afternoon

TRIBUTE TO T. R. MARSHALL

Senator Tells Legionnaires Organization Will Not be as Easy as it Was For G. A. R.

"How beautiful is the situation of America," said Senator James E. Watson, paraphrasing the Psalmist, in addressing a meeting at Memorial park coliseum, sponsored by the American Legion, Sunday afternoon and he recounted some of the glories of America, stressing her war history, and pointed out what lay before the American Legion in protecting the principles for which American soldiers fought in the World War.

Senator Watson was introduced by Samuel L. Trabue, and following his address three American Legion officers who were here for the district meeting held at the Legion club rooms earlier in the afternoon, were introduced and spoke a few words. The New Salem band gave a concert before the address.

"The American Legion is endeavoring to perpetuate so far as it is able, the principles of Americanism for which the boys fought," said Mr. Trabue, in explaining that this was the last of a series of meetings held under the Legion's auspices. He alluded to the fact that the late Thomas R. Marshall had consented to speak at one of the series, but could not come at the time designated, and had intended to speak here later.

Senator Watson promptly took off his coat when he arose to speak with the comment that "you can take off anything you want to." He expressed sorrow that Mr. Marshall could not be here.

"He was a genuine American," Senator Watson said of Mr. Marshall, "a splendid patriot, a fine scholar and a noble citizen. The speech he made upon leaving the vice-president's chair was a classic and I wish that every American girl and boy might read it for instruction in patriotism."

In developing the theme, "How beautiful is the situation of America," Senator Watson alluded to her untold resources that are yet untouched and her ideal location geographically.

America is fortunate in her situation as to mortality, the senator pointed out, with 365,000 churches collecting and distributing last year 800 million dollars.

She is fortunately situated as to intellectual culture, he said, with 384 colleges and universities for men, 284 for women, 262 for both men and women and 375 professional schools, with 265,000 students and valued at more than two billion dollars.

America is also fortunately situated as to leadership, he continued, because America is conspicuous for her leadership and is so recognized around the world.

"When stirred to the depths," Senator Watson said, "America is the most idealistic nation in the world."

HIGH LEGION OFFICERS AT DISTRICT SESSION

Membership Problems Discussed by District and National Officials in Meeting Here

J. H. KIPLINGER'S GUESTS

A district meeting of the American Legion, attended by representative of several counties in the sixth district, was held at the Legion club rooms in the court house Sunday afternoon previous to the public meeting at Memorial park.

Membership problems were the principal thing discussed, according to the officers of the local post, which now has approximately 100 members in good standing.

Dr. C. R. Bird of Greensburg, chief of the rehabilitation department was present and took up some questions affecting his duties.

Other prominent Legionnaires attending were Barney Breedlove of Indianapolis, Indiana service officer; C. A. Jackson of Newcastle, district chairman; Charles Theeders of Connersville, member of the district committee; C. A. Jackson of Newcastle, member of the national committee.

Mr. Breedlove, Mr. Theeders, Senator Watson, Samuel L. Trabue, Dr. Bird, Robert Hays of Greensburg and Raymond Benning, commander of Rush post, were entertained at John H. Kiplinger's home at noon for dinner.

—James A. Caldwell, a student of Purdue, spent the week end in this city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Caldwell. He returned to Lafayette Sunday, and was accompanied by his mother, who will remain until Tuesday, and attend the annual commencement exercises in which her son is a graduate.

Constitution and Booze

Arthur Brisbane defines a good
American as one, regardless of his
religion or lack of religion, who
"works for a living, respects the
constitution, obeys the laws, recognizes the government of the United States as the supreme power under
heaven, and refrains from interfering with the rights of other Americans as set forth in the constitution,
free speech, free thought, free
newspapers, free religion and complete separation of church and state."All Americans will accept the definition as a true one, but they comes in applying it.Nicholas Murray Butler, president
of Columbia university, probably
would agree with this view, yet he is
bitterly opposed to the eighteenth
amendment, which was added to the constitution in the regular way the constitution provides. And he doubt-
less thinks he "respects the constitution," though he attacks it in
public address whenever the occasion
presents itself.Dr. W. P. Dearing, president of the Indiana State Teachers' Association, also would approve this definition, but he is diametrically opposed to Dr. Butler's stand regarding the eighteenth amendment.He addressed an open letter to Dr. Butler, concluding with this paragraph, "In the name of American liberty, which accepts personal limitations for the sake of the public
good, Indiana sends its protest to
foreign New York with its European
personal liberty which says, 'the public and the American constitution be damned—I want my booze.'"Thus, what constitutes personal liberty will always be in dispute.
One school of thinkers believes the constitution has no limitations where their personal liberties are concerned, but would apply the scrivens unmercifully on the personal liberties of those who disagree.The modern construction placed upon "personal liberty" is that an individual may go as far as he likes
if what he does is not detrimentalto the common good and does not infringe upon the rights of other individuals.Intoxicating liquor was outlawed
with the passage of the eighteenth
amendment because it is recognized
as harmful and as having an evil
influence on society. If all the men
and women who want liquor licensed
again, could drink it without interfering with the "personal liberty"
of others, there would be no objection, but they can't. And for that reason booze will continue to remain an outlaw.FIFTEEN YEARS

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON—The presidential job often is referred to
as a man's job. The vice presidency generally is considered
something of a sinecure.It seems to have occurred to
nobody that, with Thomas R.
Marshall's death, the country has
as many living ex-presidents left
as ex-vice presidents—that is to
say, one of each, respectively Chief Justice Taft and President Cool-
idge.This gives rise to the guess,
either that the vice presidency
must be more wearing than was
popularly supposed, or that some
deadly quality other than the work
involved lurks in both the chief
magistracy and its understudy's
post.The fact is, though we have had
what we called young presidents
and vice presidents, they were
young only for the high offices
they held. After a term or two,
most of them were pretty well on
in this life and not far from the
getting off place into the next.EX-VICE PRESIDENT MAR-SHALL was one of the most
popular statesmen Washington ever has known. He never
took himself too seriously. Affa-
ble and easy of approach, his circle of friends was enormous.His humor—antiseptic but heating—was delightful. His oft-
quoted remark during the post-
war reconstruction period, with
everybody telling what the country needed, "It needs a good 5-cent
cigar," was typical of him.Frivolous, as it fell on the ear,
it was packed with meaning on
analysis, a meaning the man in the street could understand.Marshall wasn't the type of politician to wait until he knew "how
the wind blew" before making up
his mind. He made it up in advance and regardless of the wind,
and revealed it with a frankness
which horrified his party's more cautiously inclined.He never broke himself of this habit. He never tried.The fact is, though we have had

Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON—The presidential job often is referred to
as a man's job. The vice presidency generally is considered
something of a sinecure.It seems to have occurred to
nobody that, with Thomas R.
Marshall's death, the country has
as many living ex-presidents left
as ex-vice presidents—that is to
say, one of each, respectively Chief Justice Taft and President Cool-

must be more wearing than was
popularly supposed, or that some
deadly quality other than the work
involved lurks in both the chief
magistracy and its understudy's
post.The fact is, though we have had

WHY SKINNY
FOLKS TAKE
COD LIVER OIL

Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Get
Your Money Back

Because it is richer in vitamins than any other food in the world. Doctors prescribe it for rickets and anaemia in children and for tuberculosis, malnutrition and convalescence in grown up people.

As a producer of weight—good healthy flesh—there is nothing in the world so good.

But it's nasty tasting, horrible smelling stuff that often upsets the stomach so doctors now are ordering cod liver oil in tablet form.

You've got to take on weight when McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are taken regularly—you simply can't help it.

It's so good that if it doesn't put on five pounds of good healthy flesh on any skinny man or woman in thirty days the McCoy Laboratories of New York authorize Pitman and Wilson and all druggists to return the price you paid for it.

Be sure to ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sixty tablets—60 cents. One woman put on fifteen pounds in five weeks, and they are especially valuable to weak thin children.

BE WELL SITUATED

world and when passive, the most realistic nation in the world, because we give attention to the things that pertain to the material side of citizenship.

"History teaches us that there are greater calamities than war. If evil fastens itself on the body politic, only war will loosen it. There is no remission of sins without the shedding of blood."
"Who shall say that the world has not been improved by the conflicts in which we have engaged," declared the senator. "Any war was justified to give this nation independence, to give this nation freedom from slavery to remove the clutches of Spain from small nations and to prevent an autocrat from dominating the world."

Senator Watson disputed the statement of Gladstone that the United States constitution was the greatest document ever conceived at a given time by the mind of man. He declared that the constitution was the consummation of 1700 years of striving for the realization of an ideal—the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

"The constitution says that all men were created equal," he continued. "What does that mean? Equality of opportunity and equality before the law; not to be hampered by law or government. The fundamental thing in our constitution is recognition of the right of every man to work as he pleases and the right to enjoy the fruits of that labor."

"What is the Russian idea?" You say why should he discuss such a thing, but do you know that more 'red' literature went through the postoffice during the last six months than in any similar period in history. They are seeking to tear down what we have built up.

"Who's to stand up against them? These young patriots who went to the blood-soaked fields of France to fight for the principle for which America stands. The patriotic spirit they embody is the patriotic spirit that will save America."

Senator Watson said that many people were complaining about this, that and the other thing, but that most of the fancied troubles will pass.

"The only thing that really disturbs me," he added, "is the indifference of the American people to the underworld."

The senator declared that the Legion needed more systematic organization because the matter of organization will be more difficult than it was for the civil war veterans, since the World War was not fought at home, as the Civil War was, and people did not actually see the privations and bloodshed suffered by the soldiers.

"I am glad always to come back to Rushville and see the people of Rush county and preach the gospel of Americanism," he said.

"We have our ups and downs as other nations," he added. "We are going to respect the rights of other nations and compel other nations to respect our rights."

A Senator Watson took issue with the pacifists, declaring the nation should be prepared, but added that "We are not going to wage a war of aggression and do not intend that other nations shall wage a war of aggression against us."

He advocated military training for the best interests of the nation from a physical standpoint, and commented briefly upon the stand of the government regarding the payment of war debts, which drew applause.

"Our young men went over there to fight for a principle," he stated, and when the victory was theirs, they returned home. We also loaned the other nations money to help them make victory possible. Now when we tell them we want the debts paid, some Americans go over there and for private gain or some other reason, tell them we don't mean what we say."

This sort of conduct on the part of any "skulking Americans" he termed un-American.

Barney Breedlove of Indianapolis, service officer of the Legion; Cliff Payne of Newcastle, district chairman, and C. A. Jackson, also of Newcastle, member of the national committee, were introduced and spoke briefly of what the Legion is endeavoring to do for disabled veterans and for widows and orphans of men who made the supreme sacrifice.

VACATION SCHOOLS

"Some are offended because he wants them to walk in the way that is called straight while they prefer to walk a crooked way of life. They would say he takes away their personal liberty. They are not willing to confess him before men."

At the Main Street Christian church the pastor took the Golden Text of the Bible for his text, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." He showed that while "God so loved the world," man has loved only certain spots and portions of the world such as his native village, city, or country, but that since the Christian religion is a universal religion according to the great commission as given by Jesus, it becomes necessary for man to broaden his vision and his sympathies to be in harmony with the world idea of the Master.

The speaker emphasized and illustrated just how provincial mankind is and it is perfectly natural that some of this narrowness should have crept into the church and still abides there. Mr. Cato said that in cultivating a farm a man's ideas

"Uncle Robbie"

By HENRY B. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 8—Playing managers in the major leagues came back in style several years ago when it was shown in the case of Tris Speaker that the burden of management was not too much of a load for a good player. Since then bench managers have found a poor market because it is better business for a club owner to have a manager who because it is better business for a player and thereby reduced the payroll.

As the custom of getting a playing manager is a practical idea from the business point of view, so is it practical to have a thorough baseball man at the head of a club and former managers in the future may be as much in demand as smart players are now sought for places as managers.

Three of the best business investments in the National League are now practically in the hands of experienced former players and managers and a fourth club is being rebuilt under the direction of a former player.

John McGraw, when the New York Giants were sold several years ago, was permitted to buy a large block of stock and he was elected and plans must of necessity be as large as his field to be cultivated, and that since the religion of Christ is a universal religion a Christian cannot be narrow, selfish or small-minded in view of the field to be cultivated. He declared that while Christianity has met opposition from without and is yet meeting such opposition, the only real danger is from within and if the church shall rid herself of the sin of which she desires to rid the world, there is nothing that can stand in the way of her onward progress.

to the position of vice-president. While Charles A. Stoneham is nominally the president of the club, McGraw is virtually the head of the club, as Stoneham's time is well occupied with other business enterprises.

Clarke Griffith rose from the ranks of the players to a manager's job and then ascended to the presidency of the Washington Senators, a club that is now one of the best paying clubs in the game.

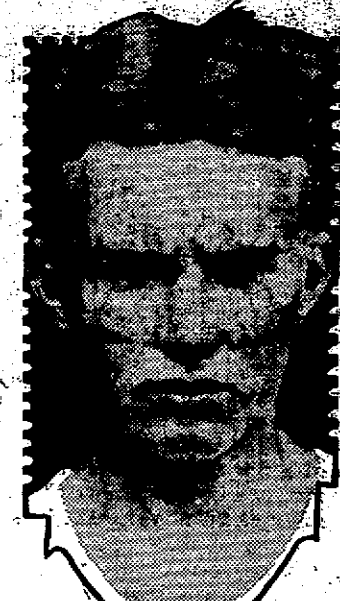

When the Boston Braves were purchased several years ago by a syndicate including several bankers, Christy Mathewson, the hero of the Giants years ago, was placed in the Presidency. Mathewson had some experience as a manager when his playing days were over and if it had not been for the way he might have been more of a success than he was with the Cincinnati Reds. He most certainly could have landed with some other club if his service in France had not broken his health.

Recently Wilbert Robinson was elevated from the management to the presidency of the Brooklyn Robins, one of the best paying investments in baseball. Like McGraw, Griffith and Mathewson, Robby was a great player and a successful manager and it is quite certain that the business of the club will not suffer under his administration.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A Hudson touring car belonging to Frank Priest of this city was missing for two and a half hours in Cincinnati Saturday night, but the police of that city recovered it, and no damage resulted. His car was parked at Coney Island, and when he went to get it, the machine had disappeared. He reported the theft to the police station and it was reported found at Walnut Hills. He had forgotten to remove the key after locking it, and "joyriders" are believed to have taken it for a spin.

Sculling Ace

Lindley has stroked Yale crews in every winning race for two years. He became ineligible for intercollegiate competition through a faculty ruling in April, however.

Cubs Looking For Games

The Rushville Cubs are in the baseball field again this summer and wish to schedule games with county and adjoining county teams. The Cubs are made up of high school and ex-school players, including Lakin, H. Warth, J. Warth, Wainwright, McIlwain, Keith, Miller, Rankins, Christopher, Adams, Newbold and others. For games, team managers can see or call Ira McIlwain at 829 North Willow street, or call 1431. The Cubs are a strictly amateur team, taking no money. A game is desired for next Sunday.

You Should Select a Refrigerator with Care

The health of your family depends to a large degree on having a clean, sanitary, cold storage place for foods. When you select a refrigerator investigate the following three points.

1. INSULATION. The insulation is to keep heat from entering the refrigerator and cold from passing out.
2. CLEANLINESS. Any place in which foods are stored should be kept spotlessly clean.
3. CONVENIENCE. Not only convenience of storage but also convenience of cleaning.

Point One—The White Frost Refrigerator is doubly insulated. It consists of two steel jackets with an air space between, permanently and perfectly sealed. This dead air space in itself makes almost complete insulation. But in addition the White Frost is doubly insulated with ground cork, the best material known to refrigerator engineers for insulating purposes.

Point Two—The White Frost Refrigerator is the only one in the world that is built in this convenient round form. The interior is enameled and you will note that there are no crevices or corners in which impurities or dirt can lodge.

Point Three—The circular shelves that you see in the picture revolve. Thus, if you want an article that is in the back of the refrigerator you do not have to remove articles in the front or run the risk of upsetting them—you merely rotate the shelf until the article you want is in front.

This wonderful convenience, found in no other refrigerator, makes available every inch of room. In the old-fashioned square refrigerator much of the space was not used because it was so difficult to reach.

The White Frost is Built for Service

Solidly constructed of enameled metal the White Frost will last for years. It cannot warp, it cannot rust, it cannot fail in any way.

When you select a White Frost Refrigerator you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have chosen the best the market offers and you will be pleasantly surprised to find that the White Frost costs less than cork insulated old style refrigerators of equal capacity.

The White Frost is made in two sizes—the Banglow for smaller families and apartments, and the Household for larger homes.

Ask for our booklet, "What You Should Know About a Refrigerator."
